Homage!

In fourteen hundred ninety-two
Three vessels went to sea;
Columbus believed those ships and men
Would prove a theory.

Four hundred thirty-five years have gone,
Yet millions pause today
With bowed heads in memory
Of those who sailed away.

Not to the Queen who pledged them gold,
The Leader and his crew;
But to faith that fosters progress is
Our debt of homage due.

To knowledge beyond life's vision,
And vision beyond life's span;
To courage in death's defiance
For the benefit of man.

—QUINTIN BRITTON.

Police To Aid In Drive Against Illegal Lights

Chief of Police Dan Cox has told the local representative of the California State Automobile Association that he is co-operating with Frank G. Snook of the Division of Motor Vehicles and with the California Public Safety Conference in the war upon illegal lights on motor vehicles. Chief Cox points out that when lights are required there must be two headlights; one headlight and one spotlight are not sufficient. He also emphasizes the necessity for clearance lights upon commercial vehicles which have a body or load in excess of eighty inches in width. Two such lights must be displayed on the left hand side of the vehicle, one at the front showing a white light, visible five hundred feet ahead, and one at the rear showing a green or red light visible five hundred feet back.

Many accidents happen because trucks do not carry these clearance lights and because they do not display red lights at the rear. Chief Cox says: "I intend to prevent as many accidents as possible in my district by requiring trucks to display proper red lights and clearance lights during the times required by law. I also intend to stop the practice of driving 'one-eyed' motor vehicles."

Already many truck drivers and motorists have been arrested and had to pay heavy fines.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Taylor

Mrs. Winifred Agnes Taylor, who passed away Sunday at her Barrett avenue home, was laid at rest yesterday afternoon following mass at St. Mark's church and rites held from the Bert Curry chapel. Interment was in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by her husband, William J. Taylor and was the mother of Miss Elizabeth May Taylor of Richmond and Alfred Taylor of Baltimore.

LINDEMANN ATTENDS SAN LEANDRO RITES

Rev. and Mrs. C. G. Lindemann attended the funeral of one of the members of the Methodist Episcopal church of San Leandro where Rev. Lindemann officiated at the service. Rev. Lindemann was pastor of the church in that city for five years.

WHERE CAN IT BE DONE?

It's asked every day. You ask it. The wife asks it. Even the children ask it. Consciously or subconsciously, it pops up in everybody's mind the minute some need arises. That need may be repairing we want done. It may be wondering how to get certain work off our hands. Yes, it may be trying to find a way out of a hundred different problems that come up from day to day. Fortunately for us, there ARE folks that give us the Service we want—who cater to our slightest wish! But who are they? That's what you and everybody else wants to know—and quite often on the spur of the moment! And that's when you appreciate having the BUYERS GUIDE for busy reference published EVERY DAY on the "Classified" section of the Record-Herald. Where can it be done? Who will do it? The ads in the Buyers Guide give you an answer in a flash.

Lions To Attend Big Frolic In Walnut Creek

Members of the Lions club in Richmond, Berkeley, Pittsburg, Concord, Antioch, and Oakland are planning to attend the third annual ladies' night observance to be held at Memorial hall in Walnut Creek Saturday night. Dancing, entertainment numbers by Ethel and Gabriel Wakefield, radio performers and a buffet luncheon are on the evening's program.

Local Sportsmen To Increase Numbers

The Richmond Sportsmen's club meets at Brotherhood hall tonight to take action on an amendment to the charter of the club, providing that the dues of the club be lowered. This is the first step being taken by the club to increase the membership. The new rate will be $1.50 per year instead of $5. If the resolution passes, President R. B. Dougall will preside at the meeting.

POLICE OF EL CERRITO SCORED FOR 'LAXITY'

NEGLIGENCE IN "HIT-AND-RUN" CASE IS CITED

Local Man Claims He Was Forced to Appeal
To Sheriff's Office

Three hours after Deputy Sheriff J. N. Joseph and Constable B. B. Rogers of Martinez and S. H. Gnaga of Richmond began working on clues leading to the hit-and-run drivers that crashed into the buggy in which P. O. Gnaga, 48, and George Seaman, 78, were driving last Thursday in El Cerrito, two men, O. F. Meyers, 25, and Thomas Knott, 40, of Martinez, were under arrest. They are now in the county jail awaiting a hearing. Both Gnaga and Seaman sustained injuries in the collision necessitating hospital treatment. Gnaga was able to return home after stitches were taken in a cut on his head. Gnaga remained in a Berkeley hospital until yesterday when he was able to return to his home.

EL CERRITO POLICE PLAYED S. H. Gnaga last night scored the El Cerrito police charging Chief of Police Forest Wright with laxity in handling the case saying that he had three days to investigate and apprehend the two men, but had accomplished nothing.

"He would not cooperate with me so I took the matter up with the sheriff's office," said Gnaga. "I was not satisfied with the stolen car hoax put up by one of the men and as soon as I (Continued on page 5)

Elch was prominent in fraternal circles, being a member of the Kingston, New York Masonic lodge the Pittsburg, Kansas lodge of Elks, Aahmes Temple of Shriners in Oakland and the United Workmen of Houston, Mass. He was the husband of Mrs. Emma Elch and the father of Miss Hazel Elch, Hercules, Mrs. Cora Congdon, Hercules and Mrs. Alta Hill, Oakland.

ASSEMBLY OF NEW FORD TO BE STARTED

DETROIT, Oct. 11.—Assembly of the their new model will begin in a "few more days," the Ford Motor Company announced today.

Major parts of the new car have been under production for several weeks, the announcement said, and the first assembly of new bodies was started "some days ago."

The announcement also revealed that the assembly line has been removed from the Highland Park plant to the River Rouge plant.

WORK BEGUN ON PRIEST SCHOOL

The first step toward the establishment of a college for the Salesian Fathers of San Francisco, was made yesterday when a building permit was issued by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley for the remodeling of a two-story home on the Butts ranch in north Richmond. The house is located on the south side of the Richmond boundary between Emeric and Tulare avenues, and the work on it will amount to $2000, and will be done by the owners.

The Salesian Fathers of San Francisco bought the ranch last month with the intention of putting a college on the property to prepare young men for the priesthood.

Hurley also issued a permit to Mrs. Maude L. Kelly to erect a one car garage on the west side of Twenty-eighth street between Clinton and Downer avenues at a cost of $100.

Fred M. Neville will erect a garage on the east side of Richmond avenue between Martina and Santa Fe avenue at a cost of $500. W. K. Owen is the builder. Fred C. Hosking will erect a one-story frame carpenter shop on the east side of Eleventh street between Barrett and Roosevelt avenues at a cost of $700, and the shop will be built by the owner.

L. Johnson will move cottages from Prospect avenue near the Standard Oil plant, to the south side of State street between Thirtieth and Fortieth streets. The moving of each cottage will cost $300. These two buildings are the last of six that Johnson has been moving from their position near the Standard Oil plant. They were occupied by Standard Oil officials in the early development of the plant. Johnson will remodel one of the cottages at a cost of $1300.

Two El Cerrito Firemen Quit

As a result of the suspension of A. H. Byrd as engineer of the El Cerrito fire department following charges made by Fire Chief W. A. Hinds before the city council Monday night, two members of the fire department turned in their badges, according to Hinds. The two men are Edward Dees and Clayton Morrill.

"The other members of the fire department signed a petition saying they would all quit if I quit," said Hinds.

W. L. Porter, appointed as engineer to succeed Byrd, had his initial run yesterday at a grass fire on Kearney street. Little damage was done although the fire spread toward a nearby shed. According to Hinds, the new engineer "cut the mustard."

Story Of San Francisco In the Days Of Gold To Be Printed

Summoning his last bit of remaining strength, Vasquez lunged toward Stoner with drawn sword. His mouth distorted with pain opened to cry out: "A Vasquez avenges a Vasquez!"

Men gambled and consumed liquor in the rough care-free spirit of mining camp life. In short the Spanish village had become the mecca of a gold mad world. The harbor was crowded with ships of all descriptions and many nationalities, and on the shores a myriad of tents appeared to shelter the shifting population.

The face of the hideous dwarf barely discernible, peered through the iron bars of a cage. His lips drew back. The dwarf's gaunt arm, draped in tattered rags, came through the bars to point accusingly.

His arms were about her in a moment. Her struggles were futile. She was suffocated beneath his caresses. The door opened.

They put her on the block. "How much am I bid?" asked the manager. "Who wants this lovely dove?" Fifty thousand dollars, one hundred thousand dollars, the bids mounted.

Suddenly the floor moved. The walls shook. The heavy chandelier swung in a wider arc and with a ripping rending sound broke down.

These are but a few highlights from the gripping new serial, "Old San Francisco" that starts in the Record-Herald tomorrow. If you like mystery, romance, and fact action, you'll like it. If you like stories that hold your interest down to the last line, you'll like it. If it's history, in a setting that is typically Californian, in the days when the state was as yet Spanish territory and ruffians and cutthroats from all corners of the earth vied with one another to turn San Francisco into a city of evil you'll like "Old San Francisco."

Begin the first installment tomorrow! Don't miss a chapter!

Local Elks Plan To Officiate At School Fete

The Richmond lodge of Elks finished plans last night for a Halloween costume party to be given October 29 for the members of the lodge and their ladies. W. P. Cooper is in charge of arrangements for the party.

The Richmond school board has asked the lodge to officiate at the laying of the cornerstones of the Woodrow Wilson high school, and plans were made last night for this event which will take place Sunday, October 23. The following committee is in charge of the affair: H. E. Jacobs, W. P. Helms, G. B. Fredenburg, Aubrey Wilson, and Thomas M. Carlson. The annual banquet of the lodge will take place at the Hotel Carquinez Tuesday, November 5.

Textile Mill At Clyde To Build In December

MARTINEZ, Oct. 11.—Pacific Coast Cotton Mills, which is soon to erect a textile plant at Clyde for the manufacture of tire fabric from San Joaquin Valley grown cotton, filed articles of incorporation yesterday with the county clerk. The firm's capitalization is placed at $500,000 and its principal place of business is listed as San Francisco. Par value of stock is $10.

The directors of the company are announced as E. Molkenbush, C. Tichy, W. R. Wallace and R. E. Kirby of San Francisco and R. E. Jordan of Berkeley. Scott Tower is president of the firm. He formerly operated a cotton mill in the east for the manufacture of tire fabric.

Pacific Coast Shipbuilding Company of San Francisco, owner of the property on which the plant is to be constructed, is financially interested in the project. Present plans call for construction of a factory to start in December, it was reported here today.

Both rail and water facilities are available for the proposed plant and housing accommodations are available in the war time village of Clyde.

Plans for construction of the factory and the interest of the Pacific Coast Shipbuilding Company in the project have been confirmed by Colonel D. C. Seagrave, president of the ship company.

San Joaquin cotton growers have already pledged cotton sufficient to meet the demands of the mill.

Work Of Richmond Firemen Results In Eight Percent Cut In Fire Insurance Rates Here

Richmond citizens are paying 8 per cent less for their fire insurance today than they were two years ago as a result of the efficient work of the Richmond fire department and the co-operation of its citizens in eliminating fire hazards.

This fact is being emphasized this week which has been set aside throughout the nation as Fire Prevention Week and which comes to a close next Saturday, October 15th.

Last November Joseph I. Thomas, district secretary of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific, in writing to City Manager James A. McVittie, said:

"No doubt you will be interested to know that our executive committee has considered favorably my recommendation for a reduction in Richmond insurance rates, which will include nearly all classifications with the exception of protected dwellings. Reductions in the classification affected will average approximately 8 per cent."

Richmond Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, the school department and other organizations are likewise behind Fire Chief Cooper in driving home the need of greater vigilance against carelessness and thoughtlessness which are largely responsible for fires.

Here are a few suggestions by Chief Cooper as proper steps to ward fire prevention: "Matches should never be left within the reach of children. Keep

Mrs. Lewis Laid To Last Rest

Last rites for Mrs. Ellen Elizabeth Lewis, prominent Richmond matron, were held in the First Baptist church yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Weldon Wilson officiating. Interment followed in Sunset View cemetery under the direction of Wilson and Kratzer.

Deceased was a native of Indiana, coming to California 25 years ago. She was a resident of Richmond the past 14 years. She was the wife of A. L. Lewis and the mother of Ralph Lewis of 620 Twelfth street.

OUR TARIFF AGAIN

In a recent speech at Allentown, Pennsylvania, Secretary of Labor Davis declared that the American protective tariff is the bulwark of American workingmen and stands between them and idleness, and is the chief factor in this country's prosperity.

"What would you rather have," he asked, "the men of Europe doing the work, or the men of the United States? If we had no tariff the factories of other countries would run and ours would be closed. We must think in terms of America."

Here is the tariff question as it affects the workman in a nutshell. It is not a question of reducing his wages but of facing a loss of job and the soup kitchen or starvation. Eventually if free trade were continued it might be possible for manufacturing to be resumed in America on the basis of European wages and European conditions. But nobody in America wants such wages paid or such living conditions endured. And first at any rate would come idleness in the factories and general stagnation.

But the farmer is directly interested too. Lowering the tariff would not help him because he is now paying no tariff on commodities used exclusively by himself. It would hurt him both directly and indirectly. Indirectly because his great home market for provisions would be destroyed and directly because he would face competition in certain agricultural commodities from Cuba, from Mexico, from China from Canada, from South America and Spain and Italy.

And the farmer knows this. He realizes it in the south and in the southwest as well as in the north and in the northwest. That is why the tariff is no longer a sectional issue. Growers in Florida and Texas need it as well as the farmers of Minnesota and Colorado.

Coolidge, it is said, stood for several moments watching Old Faithful, the famous geyser, spouting 200 feet into the air; but he didn't say whether it reminded him of an certain senators.

It is said that the hippopotami in the rivers of East Africa make a practice of swimming around and upsetting canoes. Which puts them on the level of the fellow who rocks the boat.

How To Earn Money!

My husband has suffered financial reverses, and it is necessary for me to do something to help out, if possible, I cannot leave home, as I have two small children and a six-room apartment to care for. We would move into a smaller, cheaper place, but have a lease which still has a year to run. If I could only earn enough to help pay the rent I would be satisfied.

LEUCIE G.
The first thought that comes to me is that you might rent out two of your rooms. This would help with the expenses of your apartment. You might arrange to furnish breakfasts and dinners for your roomers, and thus add to your income.

I am planning to dress dolls for Christmas sale, and would appreciate suggestion from you.

FANNIE T. D.

My first suggestion is—be sure not to make your dolls, to expensive. Of course it would not be a bad idea to have a few higher priced dolls with complete wardrobes. Baby dolls, however, are the best and quickest sellers. Dress them just as you would a real baby—with clothes that can be taken off and put back on again by their little mothers. Character dolls of all sorts are usually good sellers. Be sure to include a doll bride, complete with bridal outfit, in your collection.

Necktie Origin Is Described

Have you ever thought many ties there in this world? We have cross ties, striped ties, broken ties and neckties. I am told that over in Asia some time there was a man who wanted to hang himself so he put a rope around his neck and went out into the woods. He threw the rope over the limb of a tree, and climbed the tree a ways, then slipped loose around his neck and then jumped to the ground—only he did not intend to hit the ground so hard.

Well, the rope broke, and he was so scared that he went home with the rope hanging around his neck. The natives were so delighted with the idea of a rope around the neck that all the men began to wear one like the man who had tried to kill himself.

That, I am told is the origin of the necktie, but you must remember that I was told the story. The only unnecessary thing a boy or man wears is his necktie, and yet it is a sign of respectability.

Why women want to present a man with one of these neckties I can tell. Perhaps I will find the answer some time.

Every Christmas I get four or five radiant neckties. The kind you can hear before you open the box. I know that do not come from Santa Claus, for they would burn up his toy factory.

Some time I wish the boys and girls who read this would write and tell me why they think women love to give boys neckties. By the way, tie your necktie right and make it look decent.

What Your FACE TELLS

©c.1927- by Betty Morrison PSYD.

He "Draws The Line Straight" Who Has A Forehead With Two Vertical Wrinkles!

Was there ever a book written so interesting as the human face? What stories are hidden in the depths, in eyes that have gleams of humor sparkling in their depths, in mouths that can show more feeling than words can ever print, in "lines that laugh and lines that cry."

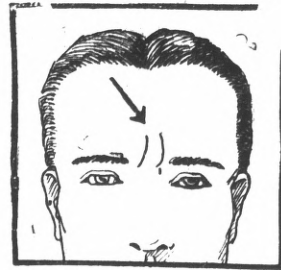

Until one studies character analysis, lines mean little, unless one is a keen observer. To rightly understand people, you must read the story told by each line of the face.

Should you ever guess the difference between one vertical wrinkle in the forehead and two vertical wrinkles? You might prefer one, but science gives a better reading to the persons with two vertical lines in his forehead. While one wrinkle implies a fault-finding nature, two vertical lines formed between the eyes indicates an intense love of justice.

FAIR DEALER

The man or woman whose forehead is portrayed in today's illustration has a passion for fair dealing for looking on both sides of the question. He bases his judgment on all facts of the case. It is said that the ability to studying, considering, analyzing every aspect.

make comparison belongs to a high type of intelligence. The individual with this development of the forehead is of that type. He criticizes and compares, leaving no stone unturned to arrive at a truthful, logical, just conclusion. He never misrepresents, he never gives himself to exaggeration. He is a devotee of truth and a lover of accuracy.

GOOD JURIST

Fortunate is the courtroom where such a man is on the bench. Fortunate is the child who is brought up by parents of this nature. This type of individual will be a valuable public servant—a city official, a minister, a teacher, or any profession where high-minded justice counts. So far as lies within human power he will administer all affairs with mercy and justice, sacrifice his own best interests when the need arises.

YOUR MARRIAGE PROBLEMS

By Patricia Lee

The training of the growing child is a serious problem—even to its own mother and father. It is doubly difficult for the step-mother or stepfather. Sometimes we lose patience with our own and sometimes they lose patience with us—but the situation is even more complicated when the child is not our own.

SAYS THE WOMAN:

I have been married three years and the past year I have been very unhappy because we have my 15-year-old stepson with us and he is very disagreeable. He is the son of my husband and I want to get along with him, but the last two weeks that boy has been terrible. I have tried to control him with kind treatment, but this seems to make him worse and he grumbles all the time. My husband seems to think I am to blame. The boy lived with his grandparents for seven years but I told my husband to bring him here, as I felt he would be happier to have his child with him. I would appreciate your advice.

MRS. D. H.

Perhaps it would be well to let the boy go back and live with his grandparents, especially since conditions are such as to cause frequent quarrels between you and your husband. Fifteen is the difficult age for boys just as it is the awkward age for girls. It is a trying period for the boy, just as it is for the conscientious parent. Psychologically he is called on to meet and solve many new experiences and problems. His mind and body become the battle ground for a host of conflicting emotions and changes. He presents a problem which can be solved only through sympathetic understanding and earnest effort on the part of both father and mother. It isn't near as hopeless as it sounds, though. I am quite sure that if you and your husband set your heads together, and work in unison you can pull the lad through this trying period and win his love and respect at the same time. All boys grumble and quarrel occasionally. They would not be human if they didn't.

SAYS THE MAN:

Dear Patricia Lee:

Life has been a great disappointment to me. As a child I never had any home life. I was an orphan. I hoped to have a home of my own some day, and saved toward that end. I married the girl of my choice, but she refused to make a home. We lived in a furnished room. I wanted a child, but she objected and lavished her affections on a pet dog. A year after our marriage an operation was performed without my knowledge. When I heard about it I left her and have not seen her since. That was six months ago. Now she writes and begs to return. She says she has changed and is repentant. She claims to be in poor health, brought about because of my loving her. I don't know what to do. In spite of everything, I love her, but I am afraid I can never trust her and that we will not be happy.

JOE R.

This is a matter that no one can decide for you. Let your own heart and your conscience be your guide. I have no doubt that your wife is thoroughly repentant and would be more than willing to live a normal married life and make a home for you should you take her back. If you really love her as you say you do it seems to me that this is the only course for you to take. My advice to you is to go back to her, forgetting the past and begin life anew. But don't go back with the idea that you cannot trust her and that you are over frankly with your wife, the firm determination to make a success of your marriage. Talk over frankly with your wife. Start right in a little home of your own, even if it is only a tiny flat.

PLAID FURS SMART

The vogue for plaid designs has extended to fur. In this new collection, Worth introduces a delightful fur sports coat of baby lamb in two shades of beige and brown. The lighter tone is used for the background while the darker tone forms a plaid design. Worth uses a great deal of really fine and meticulous work on his furs this season. A charming coat of degrade gray astrakhan is a marvel of workmanship, for its delicate shadings are all worked in by hand and yet look so natural that "it might have grown that way."

WHY I BLUSHED

I was traveling on the train one day with two children in my care. When we reached our stop I hurried from the train. Believing the children were with me, I put my hand behind me and grasped what I thought was my little friend. The hand I held revealed my clutch, but, holding firmly to it, I dragged the reluctant owner along with me. Imagine my chagrin when I turned and discovered I was holding the hand of a negro.

THE FIRST AUTO

BY ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1927 Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.
THE FIRST AUTO with Barney Oldfield and Patsy Ruth Miller is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

In 1896 Hank Armstrong so despised the automobile that he drove his son, Bob, from home for being interested in the invention. Bob becomes a speed racer. Steve Bentley, Bob's rival for the hand of Rose Robbins, gets Hank, who does not know of his son's exploits, to blow up Bob's car. Bob is injured.

CHAPTER XXIV—Continued

"He wants to see me?" Hank repeated slowly, staring at the girl aghast, scarcely able to believe he had heard aright. "He wants to see me?" He wanted to believe and yet he was afraid. "Steve Bentley, Bob's rival for the hand of Rose Robbins, gets Hank, who does not know of his son's exploits, to blow up Bob's car. Bob is injured."

Hank smiled, a very faint smile, but there was relief and happiness in his face. The two came up to the automobile and Rose put her foot on the running board to step in. But Hank was standing there, vaguely looking at the contraption. He had never before been in one of the new inventions, and he had sworn that he would die before he ever stepped

"What I like is speed," he began. "Wonder what they'll invent next?"

The Mayor looked at his friend, and together they looked over the years that had intervened. They thought of the old sulky races and the many victories Hank had won. They remembered the day that Steve Hyes was crowned with wreaths of flowers and the day she brought home the Tri-State laurels. They looked back on the night of her death with a few mental tears.

From the days of coal oil lamps and gas they had lived through the years that had intervened. They thought of the old sulky races and the many victories Hank had won. They remembered the day that Steve Hyes was crowned with wreaths of flowers and the day she brought home the Tri-State laurels. They looked back on the night of her death with a few mental tears.

And they thought of the time Hank had raced Bright Eyes against the automobile—and how Bright Eyes had won. And how they chuckled appreciatively. They could even remember his first automobile with happiness. For with the return of his son, and the change that had come over him in consequence, he had radically returned to his normal self. He forgot his old grudges and remembered old friends. His companions returned to his side once more and his life became a joyful round of existence.

He thought of the night he had razed his stables. How he had looked upon that evening as the end of all his battles and his troubles. It was—but not quite in the way in which he had expected it. For then he looked forward to nothing but death. Now, at his age, he was looking forward to living with as keen a feeling as he had ever had in his young days. The love of racing stayed with him—it was too much in his blood ever to forsake him. But now he could be found at any automobile race or any airplane meet. Speed was his cry. Speed! On with the new; off with the old.

Neither he nor the Mayor in any way regretted the passing of time nor the changes it had wrought. Not for anything would they have returned to their old ways of living. For the new, the newest, the latest, was something to be considered and accepted heartily if it proved his worth.

And as their generation took up with the new, the new generation took up with the old. As far as the pendulum swings in one direction, so must it swing back. And now Rose and Bob furnished their homes with every American furniture. Most-Asian stuff, according to Hank, who admired the new, Grand Rapids style of fittings. He turned to the Mayor and smiled. The Mayor looked around at the car. But Rose and Bob had disappeared.

"Where'd they go?" the Mayor motioned to the vacant seat. "Oh, I don't know," Hank answered. "I heard them say that they were going over to the horse show."

"THE END."

The Mayor laughed, but Dave scowled at Hank. "All right, I'll go," Dave glared at the pair on the back seat. He pulled his hat down off the back of his head and climbed into the car along with his two friends. They rolled down the road happily, and in a few minutes entered a crowd of cars parked closely together. Tops were lowered, and through field glasses every one stared at the city and the Mayor got out, adjusted their glasses, and joined the other spectators. Dave stared, his mouth agape.

THE END.

CLARA BOW IN "HULA" SHOWS AT CALIFORNIA

"Hula" brings that lovable madcap of the screen, Clara Bow, back to Richmond. It will head the program at the California Theatre starting today.

As "Hula" pet of the Calhoun plantation, Clara is said to have her best role since "It". She appears as a carefree miss who, on the eve of her sixteenth birthday, falls madly in love with a handsome young English engineer, Clive Brook. Although he doesn't say so at first, he too, is attracted toward the magnetic girl. Finally, the inevitable happens. Clara forces him to admit his love but at the same time, she also learns that Brook is the victim of an unhappy marriage. His wife, an unscrupulous fortune hunter, refuses to grant him a divorce. In addition to this, Clara finds another woman attempting to win Brook away. How she emerges from her predicament provides Paramount's scintillating star with plenty of opportunities for showing off her own peculiar talents.

Arlene Marshall is the other woman and Maude Trux, Brook's wife. Arnold Kent enacts an Hawaiian who is jealous of Brook because of his love for Clara. Albert Gran is her dissolute father and A. Borgato, her uncle. Victor Fleming, maker of "Mantrap," "The Rough Riders" and "The Way of All Flesh" directed the play.

Other features include Ben Turpin in "A Harem Knight," a Mack Sennett comedy; "Ko Ko in the Circus" International News, and Larry Canelo, at the organ. Coming for four days starting next Monday "The Big Parade," with John Gilbert and Renee Adoree in the featured roles.

"Knee Line" Object of Study By Smart Set of Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 11.—Neckline, hipline and waistline all having received due consideration from Dame Fashion, the kneeline is now getting attention in the smart set of filmdom.

Since the shortness of the smartest skirts reveals the knee, hosiery designers are now presenting a novel group.

Joan Crawford wears biege chiffon hose with a tiny pattern of floral embroidery on both knees.

In more conservative fashions, clocks, extending from the knee downward, rather than from the ankle upward, as formerly, may be worn. This style is popular with Marcelline Day and Sally O'Neil.

Hem lines of the smartest frocks are decorated more profusely than they have ever been before.

Norma Sharer wears a simple frock of rose and fit crepe with no trimming except a geometrical pattern of gold kid appearing on the hem line.

found out that the men had telephoned from two places in El Cerrito asking for help. I began investigating.

WRIGHT HELD UNCONCERNED

Chief Wright knew of the telephoning. His whole attitude in the affair disgusted me. He bragged about newspaper reporters waking him up at 12 o'clock at night and said that they didn't get much information from him and did not stay long.

"Not only that, but on Friday Meyers came as owner of the supposed stolen car and he allowed him to take parts out of the car without attempting to question him or have him identified although he knew at that time that the men had telephoned from El Cerrito the night before."

MEYERS ADMITS GUILT, CLAIMS

Meyers and Knott were identified on Monday as being in the car that collided with the wagon. Later, according to S. H. Gnaga, brother of the injured man, Meyers admitted driving the car. He is charged with driving while under the influence of liquor and failure to render aid after the accident. Knott is being held as a material witness and on a charge of disturbing the peace. The complaint was sworn to in Justice Hoffman's office in apprehending the two men.

court. Meyer's bail was fixed at $5,000 and Knott's at $500. Authorities claim that Meyers attempted to cover up his complicity in the collision by rushing to Martinez and reporting that his car had been stolen.

A quantity of wine found in the car is being held as evidence against the two men.

The sheriff's office was reluctant at first to take up the case as it was felt to be the duty of the El Cerrito police Gnaga said. Deputy Sheriff Joseph suspicious of Meyers, who seemed unconcerned about his "stolen" car, but wanted parts from the car, sent him to Chief Wright, so that the latter could investigate and attempt to have him identified according to Gnaga.

APPEALED TO SHERIFF

When Gnaga asked the sheriff's office for further aid in running down the two men, an investigation was begun by Joseph, resulting in the arrest of Meyers and Knott by Constable Rogers.

Following the collision last Thursday night the El Cerrito police claimed to know none of the particulars of the case and claimed they could not even give the name of Seaman, who was taken to an emergency hospital in Berkeley, where information was refused on the grounds that police had come to the hospital soon after the injured man had been brought in, and that a report had been given them.

Chief Wright yesterday afternoon said that he knew of the telephoning, but that the description of the two men was "so meager" that he did not have much to work on. He claimed to have cooperated with the sheriff's office in apprehending the two men.

Richmond Sciots Boost Pageant For Children

Richmond Sciots are endorsing the pageant to be presented by the San Francisco pyramid of Sciots tomorrow and Friday nights in the Exposition auditorium for the benefit of anemic and undernourished children.

Tickets have been placed on sale at Lohr's market, A. C. Burdick's hardware store and the Richmond Rose. The affair is open to the public and any from Richmond are planning to attend.

The program will be featured by an Egyptian pageant based on a mythological story of the reincarnation of the mummy Isis.

One of the principal ballets, "The Enchanted Diamond," will be led by Madeline Lynn. Other members of the cast will be Teresina Minotti, Edward Thomas, James Isherwood, Alma Michelini.

Mrs. Vera Lavenue Tenders Surprise Stork Party Here

Mrs. Vera Lavenue was tendered a surprise stork party last night by the operators of the Richmond telephone exchange at the home of Miss Clara Center, 1616 San Pablo avenue, El Cerrito.

The tables were decorated in pink and white with a marriage stork as a center piece. Bouquets of baby roses marked the places and baby dolls were held by bunches of tiny rosebuds.

The honored guest was presented with a basket of baby clothes. Those present were: Mesdames E. Sullivan, Sarah Pitchford, Virginia Tilton, Virginia Poincy, Bessie Harper, Nellie Riggins, Violet Anacletio, Frances Northcutt, Mary Lee Davis, Leona Goddard, Florence Pawsey, Elsie Martin, A. Hart and May Gitchell and the Misses Gladys Champion, Harriet Hunt, Wanda Gardell, Estella McMasters, Eleanor Shaw, Margaret Lansman, Madeline Setrow, Mary Latronica, Levine Burns and the hostess.

TAHOE COUNCIL DANCE IS HELD SUCCESSFUL

Dennis Shaw's orchestra drew a crowd to the dance of Tahoe council, Degree of Pocatontas, last night at Moose hall. The committee in charge of the dance is the following: Mabel Frates, chairman, Esther Smith, Violet Green, Laura Record, and Arthur Lange. The same committee is also planning a public Halloween dance to be given Tuesday, October 25, at Moose hall.

The lodge will give a whist party November 21 at Moose hall with Violet Green in charge. The drill team of the lodge will practice at the next meeting, Tuesday, October 18.

Helms Returns From Coronado Conclave

City Superintendent of Schools W. T. Helms has returned from Coronado, where he attended the annual convention of superintendents. Addresses were made by William Cooper, state superintendent of schools, who outlined plans for reorganization and the program to be voted upon; Will C. Wood, former state superintendent of schools, who spoke on more diversified subjects for individual pupils and by Superintendent Helms and others.

The new curriculum commission's work and the codification of school laws to be voted upon next year, together with the reorganization of the State Board of Education were also discussed. Former Superintendent Wood was presented with a chest of silver as appreciation of his work while in office.

200 Teachers of Local Schools At Meeting

Two hundred members of the Richmond Teachers' Association enjoyed a dinner meeting at the Fairmeade Country club last night. Following the dinner, business was discussed.

Miss Selma Hardesty, a delegate to the convention in Seattle, made a report of the work discussed there. Superintendent of Schools W. T. Helms, addressed the members on his recent tour of Europe. Roy Hoffman, president of the association, presided over the meeting. The association is composed of teachers from the Union high school, Junior high school and the ten elementary schools of Richmond district.

Dancing was enjoyed after the business meeting.

New Appointment Is Executed By Richmond Club

The executive board of the Richmond club yesterday afternoon appointed Mrs. D. J. Hall, first vice-president of the club to succeed Mrs. Frances Smith, who has resigned because of her duties as a teacher. The board also appointed Mrs. T. T. Cramer financial secretary to succeed Mrs. O. R. Ludwig, who has resigned because of ill health.

Mrs. S. B. Wilson, president of the club, is calling the meeting of the club next Monday afternoon at 1:30 instead of at 2 o'clock because of the press of business. Postmaster J. N. Long, will be the speaker of the day. The civics section of the club under Mrs. C. C. Kratzer, has charge of the program for the afternoon.

Santa Claus Has Pre-Christmas Rush On Here

Santa Clause arrived in Richmond yesterday some three months early, according to several residents who are wondering where they can exchange incense burners which were never ordered and for which they paid $1.45 plus 40 cents express upon C. O. D. delivery. It was reported to the police.

Richmond authorities are also interested in the impromptu Kris Kringle activities of the sender. According to those who received the "gifts" the packages were delivered through the American Express company, and their exterior was thoroughly disarming. But according to Captain of Police B. V. Shirley, the incense burners are expensive at the price of 50 cents.

Since the packages were sent through the express company no charge of using the mails to defraud can be brought, but it was said that a count of obtaining money under false pretenses might possibly cover the case.

State Fishermen To Have Radio on Boat

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 11.—Radio is coming to the aid of fishermen operating off the coast of Lower California.

The fishermen are weary of hastening to the southern fishing banks when reports come from Turtle Bay telling of the sighting of schools of tuna, skipjack and albacore.

For, all too often, when the fishing boats arrive they find the fish have left for other parts.

Now the Van Camp Seafood Co. is constructing a wireless station at Turtle Bay. This station will give hourly reports on the movements of fish in that vicinity.

Wireless receiving sets are being installed by most of the fishing boats operating in those waters.

MUSTGETEATS ENJOY "GUEST" NIGHT

"Guests' Night" was celebrated last night by the Mustgeteats club at the South Richmond improvement clubhouse. Winners at whist were the following: W. B. Mayo, S. C. Crawford, Mrs. E. J. Hathaway, Richard Dunn, Mrs. Addie Myers, Mrs. Ten Eych, and C. C. Browner. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Burt of San Jose were among the guests of the club. Last month they entertained the club at their San Jose home. At the next meeting of the club, next Tuesday, Joe Randall will be the host.

Girl Scouts Put On Program For Richmond B. and P. W.

The meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club in the Richmond clubhouse last night was visited by the Richmond Girl Scouts, who put on the program for the evening.

The entertainment was opened by two songs, "Winding Trail" and "Hail" sung by the girls. Next Eileen Hucka gave a talk, and Phyllis Hudson gave a poem, "My Dad." Margaret Esola gave a piano solo, and then the play, "The Old Man and His Grandson" was staged, followed by a poem read by Margaret Russell.

"The Doll Dance" was played by Dorothy Figueroa, and another play, "Just Mary Louise," was presented by Nadia Hasey and Eloise Krumick. Dorothy Figueroa presented another number, "What Am I?" and Phyllis Hudson danced the Highland Fling and the Sailor's Hornpipe. Yells were led by Gertrude Heise, and the program closed with the "Star Spangled Banner" and taps.

Dr. Rosa Powell of the Business and Professional Women's club gave a talk to the girls, bringing out the ideals of Girl Scouts. Evelyn Scott also presented a solo, accompanied by Miss Bernice Mills. Dancing and refreshments closed the meeting.

The local troops of Girl Scouts are celebrating Girl Scout Week, October 8 to 15, and today a delegation of the girls will visit the luncheon of the Kiwanis club at the Hotel Carquinez. Thursday will be "Good Turn Day."

Among those girls who contributed to the program last night and were present are the following: Violet Hall, Louise Pummill, Eloise Krumick, Dorothy Figueroa, Emilda Allen, Nadia Hasey, Ruth Brown, Dorothy Oswill, Ellen Hicks, Lorraine Brown, Lorraine Monte, Doris Miller, Vera Myers, Marion Honsinger, Gertrude Heise, Marguerite Russell, Nellie Adams, Alice Borghi, Irene Haffner, Phyllis Hudson, Evelyn Scott, and Marguerite Esola. Mrs. L. W. Wuesthoff is the guardian of the local Girl Scouts.

Hi-Y Admits Six New Members

Six new members were initiated into the Richmond Hi-Y club last night at a meeting at the local Y. M. C. building. The new members are: Lawrence Theis, Angelo Poleso, Edward Owens, John Kinnaird, Warren Brusie and Benjamin Turpin. Plans were made by the club for the annual father and son dinner of the Hi-Y October 31, Monday. William Clarenbach is in charge of arrangements for the affair.

Fountain Pen To Match Garb Of Wearer "Fad"

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Should a man's fountain pen match his clothes? The gaudy contrivances for fountain pen fans have resulted in greater sales volume and men who formerly owned one pen are now buying others because they like the color. The fountain pen "one loves to touch" may be red, or brown or green or any other color known to man. As a result of gaudy pens the light-o-love now looks at her man and tells him rather bitterly that a plump pen should never be worn with a light grey suit. Ensembles of fountain pens and suits are now in order. The pen, it appears should match or harmonize with the suit and a man should never carry two fountain pens of different color.

The Fifth Avenue tailors call the attention of the Universal representative to the horrible taste displayed in the matter of matching pens and apparel. "Many a well-dressed man spoils the picture by carrying the wrong shade of pen," remarked one of the peers of the Fifth Avenue fraternity. "Why do they do it?"

Why, indeed?

Begins in the Record-Herald Tomorrow

A thrilling novel of the underworld that will quicken your pulse and make your heart beat faster as the mysterious intrigues of the Oriental mind are matched with the straight-shooting wits of an American.

A beautiful American girl trapped in a notorious den on the old Barbary Coast, famed all over the world as the equal of Port Said, the "hell-hole of the seven seas." A stealthy gang-leader of half-caste thugs that know no mercy, and whose deeds are prompted by the machinations of a mind warped on a woof of Orient plus Occident.

Opium dens where slaves to the drug smoke long lacquer pipes and dream impossible things—impossible save to that "Great Boss" whose crafty hands steal through poppy smoke to make devilish nightmares realities.

Don't fail to read it—it's one of the really great mystery and detective stories that will hold your interest throughout. Watch for it! It begins in the Record-Herald Tomorrow!

Football Upsets Indicate Bears Hitting Fast Stride

BERKELEY, Oct. 11.—Old Joe Slump and various other mythical gentlemen stalked Pacific Coast gridirons last week and turned the game of football as it is played hereabouts into a thing of joy for the fan who keeps a weather eye to the percentage columns.

Saturday was a day of upsets throughout the country and the teams west of the Rocky mountains contributed their share. Notable upsets were: the California victory of St. Mary's, a result not unexpected by Bear followers; the narrow escape of U. S. C. from defeat at the hands of O. A. C.; and the showing of Oregon against Idaho. Records of coast teams to date are:

BERKELEY, Oct. 11.—Harold Kaufman, one of Nibs Price's few remaining Bear guards, was lost to California for a week or ten days when he suffered a broken nose and a wrenched shoulder in the game with St. Mary's. Kaufman was hurt in the second quarter but played throughout the contest in spite of his injuries. Kaufman is the sixth Bear guard, lost through injuries.

As menacing as the bat of Babe Ruth, there was enough slugging power in the hickories that the Waner brothers, Lloyd and Paul, waved over the head of the Bambino to win the World's Series for Pittsburgh, if the Yankee pitchers weakened. ## Hunting

The following hunting and fishing news is furnished through the courtesy of the R. B. Dougall Hardware company.

ALPINE COUNTY
MARKLEVILLE—There have been about one hundred deer taken so far from the Blood's section on the Calaveras Big Trees road. The Twin Lakes section has not turned out as many bucks this year as usual, only about twenty-five having been taken to date.

FRESNO COUNTY
FRESNO—Both local and visiting hunters still seek the high elevations where deer are to be had by men who can shoot straight and are able to do a little hiking. Quite a number of bucks were taken this last week. Duck hunters have been quite set up over their success in getting the limit; they are having better shooting than last year.

HUMBOLDT COUNTY
EUREKA—A few deer are being bagged at Twin Lakes, Snow Camp and Grouse Mountain. South Fork Mountains is still good and the recent rains will make it better. Bucks are running small in size compared to other years. Not many forked-horns but lots of three and four-pointers and very small.

Duck hunting opened with a bang. Many birds were bagged on the preserves on opening day. Scull boats and poor success Sunday as the birds are on the preserves and no shooting took place on Sunday to drive the mout into the bay.

FORTUNA—We have had a light rain during the week just past and a number of good bucks have been killed since on Mad River, Buck Mountain and Eton Roughs.

WILLOW CREEK—Bucks are still being brought in off Trinity Summit and all hunters are well satisfied. In the valley, bucks are very rare. Three bears have been killed in the last few days by three different hunters.

MOSO COUNTY
JUNE LAKE—Boulder Lodge (Bishop P. O.) There is a public fish and game house opposite the entrance and that has been consistently full of fish for the last month and no less than six bucks have hung there; two more just brought in.

SHASTA COUNTY
(Quail seasons opens Dec. 1st)

FALL RIVER MILLS—Deer hunting has not been as good as usual although some large mule-tail bucks were shot in Siskiyou and Modoc counties. One big buck was shot on Butte Creek that had 13 points on one side

Bears To Tangle With Oregon On Next Saturday

BERKELEY, Oct. 11.—The University of California football team, conqueror of St. Mary's, will leave Berkeley at 5:19 o'clock Thursday evening for the Cascade Limited for Portland where they will meet the University of Oregon Saturday.

The train will leave from the Southern Pacific West Berkeley station. The Bears arrive in Portland at 3:40 o'clock Friday afternoon and according to Coach Nibs Price will immediately proceed to Multnomah Field for a practice session.

The return will be made at 10 o'clock Saturday night. The Bears also return on the Cascade, arriving in Berkeley at 8:06 o'clock Sunday morning.

Many rooters will accompany the team on the Cascade, while others will delay departure until Friday morning. Arrangements are being made for a special rooter's train to the California-U. S. C. game in Los Angeles on October 29.

Fishing

Alpine County
MARKLEVILLE—The Mokelumne River near the headwaters in Alpine County has been fair fishing during the summer months and there is still a possible chance to catch a few fish.

The East Carson River continues good but the cold weather is on now and the likelihood is that the fish will stop biting soon.

Markleville Creek is not so good as the water is getting too low for good fishing.

Pleasant Valley is still yielding a few trout to the angler. The fish are mostly Eastern Brook and Rainbow.

West Carson River is poor fishing as the season is about over. The season will open better in the spring with limits of Rainbow and Steelhead averaging about two to three pounds.

Charity and Faith valleys, the water is too low for good fishing.

BLUE LAKES—the fishing is good on the upper Blue Lake. It is here the large salmon-side is caught, average weight from one to ten pounds. The lower lake is too high for good fishing.

Twin Lakes are still high and the prospects are very poor for fishing here this year as there is too much natural feed in this comparatively new water.

Humboldt County

EUREKA—Steelhead fishing is still good in the Eel River on spinner and bait. Fly fishing is not so good although a few fish are being taken. The spawn fisherman is getting in some good ticks. Most of the fish are being taken this way from Hansen's to Dungan's Pool. Several salmon were taken this last week at Dungan's Pool and at the north of the river.

MAD RIVER—Fishing is getting good as the mouth of the river has been opened up and a large run of Steelhead and Salmon is coming in, a number of catches being reported below Carson's Bridge, on spinner and bait.

KLAMATH RIVER—Fishing is fairly good at Klamath Glen, but not so good as last week. Practically no fishing at Orleans as the river is muddy and a number of parties returning report nothing doing in fishing and are telling us to send no one that way until conditions are better.

FORTUNA—Lots of salmon on Lower Eel River. A good many have been taken the last week at Dungan Pool and Snag Pool. Steelhead fishing has been very good at Snag Pool, Gregg Pool, Hansen Pool and Jetty Pool.

Sacramento—New Company capitalized at $1,000,000 plans immediate construction of 31 miles of railroad between Crescent Mills in Plumas county and Westwood.

Gentlemen,
I suffered from leakage of the Heart, Enlargement, Pain and High Blood Pressure. The pain extended to my back and left arm. I tried many local physicians, but found no relief at all. After I had seen your advertisement about overcoming Heart Trouble I decided to write to you for Herbs. Your Herb treatment is indeed wonderful. When I had finished taking a four-week supply of the herbs, all my pain had left me. You deserve unstinted praise for what you have done for me. I shall continue to take the herbs until I am certain that I have completely recovered and am sound and healthy in every respect.

Trout Held Best Of Them All

A FISH TALE BUT NOT "FISHY"

Real Estate Man Shows Prowess

Best dinner?

Al Paulsen, well-known real estate man of Richmond, certainly can hark back to "that certain time" when the vlands of the feast literally knocked him for the well-known loop.

And he pins his verdict on a trout dinner enjoyed during a hunting and fishing trip in Trinity county last July.

Of course, the fact that the dinner is relatively recent may have something to do with the other fact that he remembers it so keenly, according to Paulsen.

"A party of Richmond men and myself had been casting for the elusive trout all day long, and not a solitary one showed fin above the water.

"We were just about to give up and hike back to camp when—now listen, I don't want to brag, but I always pride myself on the fact that if there were any fish, I could catch them.

"I noticed a good hold behind a little clump of trees and as quiet and placid as a maiden's face—an old fashioned maiden, that is. I got down near the edge and put on a fly that had worked lots of times before.

"I was just about to cast when I noticed the biggest trout I'd ever seen moseying along near the bank. Talk about luck fever, I had it, and the intricate is that the fly landed about two inches from the big boy's nose.

"Did he take it? And how! I thought that boy for fifteen minutes before I could land him. No, I won't say how much he weighed, but he furnished that 'best dinner' for four men, and that's saying a little something.

Four 'Accidents' For Yesterday

Four automobile accidents with only one injury occurred in Richmond yesterday, according to the police records.

Lloyd Williams, 7-year-old-son of A. Williams of 615 Second Street, was struck by a car driven by Ernest Spada of 523 Second street yesterday afternoon. The accident occurred at Second street and Barrett avenue. The boy was taken to the Abbott Emergency hospital where it was found that he had sustained a sprained ankle and a possible fracture.

Albert Persson of Giant reported that his car was overturned early yesterday morning when he swerved it to escape striking another car. The car was badly damaged but Persson escaped uninjured.

Cars driven by Mrs. Alma Mortimer of 1600 Dwight Way, Berkeley and Theresa Broglio, who was driving to Richmond from Angels Camp her former home collided at the intersection of Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue last night. No one was injured and but slight damage was done to the cars.

Cars driven by J. B. Milton of 1550 Fruitvale avenue, Berkeley and W. A. Mittnach of Crockett collided at the same intersection at 9:40 o'clock last night. Slight damage was done.

San Francisco—34-story physicians and dentists building to cost $3,000,000 planned at Sutter street near Powell.

Boy King May Visit U. S.

QUEEN MARIE is reported planning to send the boy King, Michael, to the United States for visit. Photo above shows the young ruler and his mother, Princess Helen, who may come with him. The boy King will be heavily guarded on his visit to the United States.

Lions Club Told Of Work Done At 'Sunshine Camp'

The effective work being done at the Contra Costa county camp in Marsh creek canyon was told to the members of the Richmond Lions club yesterday by Senator W. R. Sharkey of Martinez who invited the organization to visit the camp on October 30. He asked the co-operation of the club in the Christmas Seal Sale which aids the work of this prevention-lum in bringing tubercular children back to health.

Impersonations in song and story were given by Joe Mills, Berkeley banker. The club was thanked for its interest in Fire Prevention Week by Fire Chief W. P. Cooper. Attorney T. N. Calfee was chairman of the day.

George E. Barnett, president and manager of the new Richmond Commercial and Savings bank was received into the club as a new member. He had been formerly a member of the Concord Lions club. Bert X. Tucker delivered the address of welcome and Barnett made a short speech in which he expressed his appreciation of the reception he had received in Richmond.

Conser Rites To Be On Thursday

Funeral services for Harry C. Conser, 60, who passed away yesterday following a supposed heart attack, will be held from the Wilson and Kratzer chapel at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Rev. H. K. Sanborne of the St. George Presbyterian church will officiate. Cremation will follow in the Berkeley crematory.

Conser, a well-known employee of the Standard Oil company residing at 2021 Burbeck avenue, was stricken as he left a Richmond store after making some purchases. He was taken to the Abbott Emergency hospital in a Wilson and Kratzer ambulance but died before he could receive medical attention.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Alice M. Conser and was the father of Mrs. Myra Barry of Sacramento; Mrs. Lottie Wuepper of San Leandro; Sarah Gifford of Orville and Robert Conser of Richmond.

Voting Of Water Bonds Held Logical Steps To Independence

Al Latham, Director of the East Bay Municipal Utility District, representing Alameda, a large section of East Oakland and San Leandro, will devote much of his time to working for the passage of the $26,000,000 water distribution bonds he announced yesterday.

"Those of us who have given this matter the most thought are convinced of the great need for this bond issue at this time," said Latham. "Students of this problem are by no means confined to officials of the Utility District. Conferences have been held between District Directors and engineers and thoughtful men in all of the East Bay cities during recent months. The decision to move for the acquisition of a local system this fall was made as a result of these meetings.

"We are simply proceeding on the theory that municipal water must be municipally distributed. All our plans are made for the delivery of the large supply of pure mountain water municipally owned at the doors of the District within the next three or three and a half years.

"Should we approve these bonds at the election of November 1, we will be performing consistently and will be showing a determination to finish a big job which we have now well under way.

"We are definitely committed to municipal ownership. In 1923 we voted to form the District. In 1924 we approved the $39,000,000 bond issue to build the Mokelumne works and bring a new supply of mountain water from a distance of ninety-three miles. Now we are asked to take a third step and vote ourselves into the water business.

"The election of November 1 will do just that. It will give us possession of the machinery of water distribution which we know is at this time returning to the East Bay Water Company, a privately owned corporation, an annual operating income of $4,500,000, which is increasing at the rate of $300,000 each year. Thoughtful people believe that the people themselves should have that income. It is not financially practical for us to enter into partnership with the East Bay Water Company, which means that without owning our own system we would find it impossible to get our municipally owned water to the consumers.

"Taxes are high. They will be higher unless we do something about this water matter. Our present tax rate for the Utility District alone throughout the District is twenty-three cents on the $100. Estimates are that it will go to fifty cents, or higher, if we have to carry the burden of interest and bond redemption on our Mokelumne investment out of direct taxes. The figures show that the returns, which is possible to get from a Municipally owned water distribution plant, will pay interest, bond redemption and operating expenses on the local distribution system and on the Mokelumne project as well.

"The issue is clear. We must continue to pay water bills to a private corporation, which, in turn, pays dividends to a comparatively small group, or we must get possession of the works and pay water bills to ourselves, thus reducing our burden of direct taxes and spreading the benefits of municipal ownership over the entire East Bay public.

Clean, carefree heating

That's the beauty of GAS fuel

WITH the new gas-fired warm-air heating systems the air is heated without coming in contact with the gas flames. Only pure, warm air goes into the rooms.

Here is reliable, economical and absolutely carefree heating for your home.

So buy a good gas-fired furnace. Get it from a dealer who will install the furnace correctly. For that means long years of economical operation. But remember—there's little economy in a cheap furnace installation. So you better talk to our gas heating specialist first, for he'll gladly advise you about specifications that insure economical and efficient gas heating.
